

FEBRUARY 2022 NEWSLETTER

PRODUCT NEWS

Adam Matthew

This CC partner has announced seven new primary source databases for 2022.

More info.

PRODUCT NEWS

EBSCO Historical Abstracts

Now covers more than 2000 journals. There are currently 22 CC subscribers to either the index or full text versions.

NEWSWiley R&P Journal Deal

SCELC recently announced that they are signing a Wiley deal that is virtually identical to the groundbreaking CC Wiley R&P deal.

More Info

FEATURED -ANNUAL REVIEWS

Annual Reviews is a nonprofit publisher dedicated to synthesizing and integrating knowledge for the progress of science and the benefit of society.

Annual Reviews publishes 51 journals, primarily in the sciences. Carolina Consortium libraries are eligible for discounts on subject packages, or the complete collection.

Beginning in 2020, Annual Reviews launched a new open access program, Subscribe to Open. Under this program, if existing subscribership levels are maintained, the current year of a subset of selected Annual Reviews Journals are published under an open access license. For the most up to date information on Subscribe to Open, please visit the URL:

<https://www.annualreviews.org/page/subscriptions/subscribe-to-open>

Annual Reviews Website

Contact Keith Layson (klayson@annualreviews.org) for pricing, demos, and questions.

CC Library Spotlight- CLEMSON LIBRARIES

Clemson has five libraries with an aggregate 800,000+ print items and over a million electronic titles, along with an innovative digital studio and separate makerspace.

Cooper Library Virtual Tour

Clemson was a founding member of the Carolina Consortium and currently has 26 CC subscriptions.

Events

We are still planning to hold the CC Annual Meeting in-person in Greensboro on May 10.

CC Events Web Page

In the Carolina Consortium's first year of operations (2006), 38 institutions initiated big deals with one or more of three large journal publishers (Blackwell, Springer, and Wiley).

WILEY READ AND PUBLISH UPDATE

In the first month of our innovative read and publish deal, faculty from 13 different Carolina Consortium institutions had 37 articles approved for no-cost OA publication in Wiley hybrid journals. We are off to a strong start!

CC NEWS AND UPDATES

Meet Carolina Consortium Advisory Group member Jean Gudenas:

Jean is the Director of Information Resources and Collection Services for the Medical University of South Carolina. She is responsible for the licensing and negotiation of Library resources for MUSC and leads a team of dedicated workers to deliver information across the campus and network of hospitals in South Carolina, through the acquisition of resources, direct access to subscriptions, and services such as Interlibrary Loan. After moving here nearly 5 years ago, she still will take a Charleston summer over a Chicago winter any day. Jean spends her time with her husband and 9 year old daughter playing video games, crafting unusual

(and not at all geeky) things, and enjoying certain movies genres a little too much (like horror)

At the February meeting of the Advisory Group, we will be discussing the May 10th in-person meeting and the follow-up online meeting to be held during summer 2022..

NEED MORE CAROLINA CONSORTIUM INFO?

This newsletter does not contain confidential details like CC pricing, inflation rates, or usage stats for individual schools. For that reason, it is fine to share this newsletter with colleagues within or outside the CC.

CC members can request access to the CC's detailed confidential information by sending an email request to bucknall@uncg.edu

If any CC library staff member would like to join the CC listserv and get more frequent and detailed updates via email, please email a request to bucknall@uncg.edu