

For all of these proposed ejournal cancellations, we will retain access to many volumes published prior to 2024.

For 23 of the 48 journals on this list we will continue to receive new issues, but with delayed access.

As an example of "delayed access", we will continue to receive access to a newly published articles in PNAS, but the most recent issues will be 6 months old.

The UNCG Libraries continue to operate an effective and efficient ILL service. We are able to obtain most articles for faculty, students, and staff within 2-3 working days.
